Director's report

It was a good year on some notes and a challenging year on others for the Haliburton County Board of Education. In his annual report, Education Director Stuart Baker retells some of the happenings of 1989 and goals for 1990.

Coloured lights

Anyone travelling through Minden during the Christmas holidays knows a lot of people put much effort into their Christmas decorations. A few local residents and businesses were recognized last week by the for their efforts. Please see page 6.

Not just trees

There's more to forests than trees, says Dr. David Suzuki, and he hopes the Ministry of Natural Resources will recognize this when conducting their timber management planning. Please see page 8.

Plenty of action at Minden Atom tourney

There was plenty of action at the Minden arena last Wednesday during the Minden OMHA Atom tournament, which was ultimately won by Cannington in a hard-fought final with Fenelon Falls.

Minden had two teams entered in this tournament—the OMHA team and the Tri-County team. Neither had great success, but both teams played well against their tough opponents.

In the first game of the tournament, Minden's Tri-County Atoms lost 10-0 to the Port Carling team. The boys played well throughout the game but were out of their element at this advanced level of play. This was the first time this season the Tri-County team has played at the OMHA level and they put in a good showing.

Special mention in this game goes to Corey Casey, who was named the most valuable player of the game. Casey was brought up from the novice team to play in this tournament.

The second game of the tournament saw Cannington come on strong in the third period to outdistance the Minden OMHA team 5-1.

Stanhope family loses home in Dec. 23 fire

Stanhope community pulls together to guarantee Rivers have a merry Christmas

Strong community spirit helped provide a Stanhope Township family with a measure of Christmas joy after their home and belongings were destroyed in a fire on December 23.

Stanhope firefighters couldn't save the home of Tom Rivers when the fire broke out late Saturday morning, but friends and neighbours made certain the family of four would have some gifts to open on Christmas day and a turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Fire Chief Bob Nangle said the cause of the fire is unknown. The fire department received the call to respond to the fire on North Shore Road, about a half a mile west of the airport, at about 11:30 a.m. When they arrived at the scene, firefighters found flames shooting up through the roof of the house.

Firefighters battle the fire on this freezing cold day for almost four hours, but there was no saving the building, said Nangle. When all the flames were finally doused, the only thing standing were the charred remains of the walls. The firefighters then pulled down those walls to ensure embers wouldn't cause flames to erupt again.

In addition to the loss of the house, all the presents stored under under the tree waiting to be opened by Rivers' three- and six-year-old sons on Christmas morning were taken by the fire. With this in mind area residents and businesses came forward with gifts to make sure the Rivers family would still have a Christmas to look forward to.

Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis immediately set out to canvas neighbours for contributions. With Saturday being the last shopping day before Christmas, he realized that time was running short. People gave generously, though, and he made it to town in time to buy some gifts, a turkey and trimmings for a Christmas dinner.

Davis said he was happy to be able to help a family enjoy their Christmas. "It sort of made my Christmas," he said. "All in all we were to see those kiddies had as good a Christmas as possible."

Stanhope Deputy Reeve Ann Barker also noted the kind contribution from Vince Connaughan of Stedmans, who provided the Rivers with gifts from his stores.

It's heartening to see this sort of holiday spirit displayed by the community, said Davis. He said the family was well looked after

Education director reports on year's events

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Haliburton's Director of Education has submitted his annual report to the Ministry of Education, touching on some of the changes experienced in the last 12 months as well as some of the challenges the board can expect to face in the future.

In his opening message Stuart Baker focuses on the important role the education system can play in fostering an awareness of environmental issues.

"As we look ahead to the last decade of the 20th century, it is evident that graduates will need a global perspective. The focus on ever increasing industrial production, consumer societies and expanding gross national products of the past will need to be replaced by an understanding of sustainable development and environmental conscience of the future," Baker writes.

"Teachers and students should have the opportunity to make learning relevant to global environmental needs. Trustees can set an example by making all board operations as environmentally friendly as possible.

"The quality of future life depends on it."

When reviewing some of the highlights of the board of education operations for 1989, the report mentions the leadership role already being taken by teachers and students in forcing environmental issues to the forefront of local concern.

An example of this leadership was provided by the students of Archie Stouffer Elementary School who began their own recycling program and were instrumental in getting Minden council to establish a recycling bin at the Scotch Line land-fill site.

Other highlights of the year included an election which saw seven new trustees join the 15-member board of education, a teacher exchange program that had Peter Ellis from Australia join the staff at Archie Stouffer while Minden teacher

Nick Pawluch ventured to the land down-under, and a system-wide review of the special education program in Haliburton with a list of recommendations for improvement.

Easily the most controversial issue the board of education was forced to deal with was the province's decision to remove the Lord's Prayer and Bible readings from opening exercises.

The Ministry of Education made the decision based on a Supreme Court ruling which said no single religion may have primacy in opening exercises.

The climax of the controversy was the resignation of Charles Hughes from his position as principal of the Wilberforce school because of his opposition to the new regulation.

In complying with the ministry directive, the board of education decided to limit opening exercises to the National Anthem and a moment of silence, removing all religious content altogether.

On a more positive note, a major expansion and renovation project was carried out at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School which included the construction of a new Library Resource Centre. An official opening of the addition is planned for the new year.

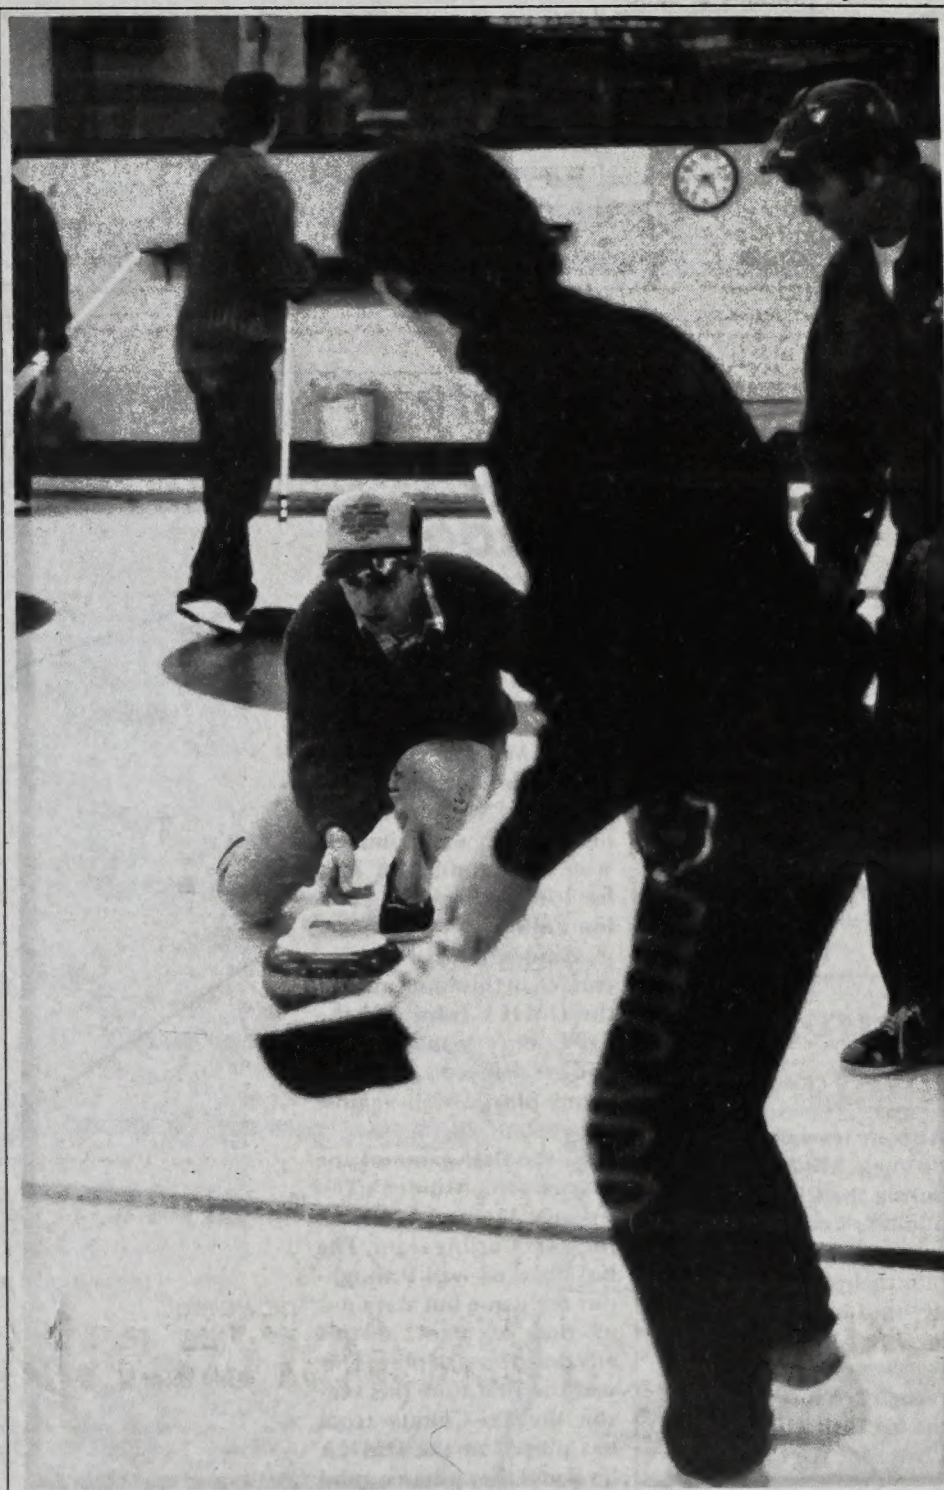

Accommodation for students in the primary division has become the most pressing problem facing the board. Last year the trustees faced severe space shortages at Minden's Archie Stouffer school and Haliburton's Victoria Street School.

The board of Education decided that the Victoria Street school should be declared a candidate for closure to begin the review process that is required to determine the fate of the 1924 structure.

An architect's review suggested the new accommodation could be provided at less expense than the renovation of the building.

The trustees recently adopted a long-

Good curling and good fellowship were served up at the Minden Curling Club last Thursday during the one-day men's recreational bonspiel. Dwight Thomas' rink was the high three-game winner in the first draw of this 10-team 'spiel. There were no three-game winners in the second draw, but Ross Wray's rink earned the most points with two wins to take top spot.

Minden teams struggle with competition, but play well at Minden atom tournament

It was a good close game until the third period, when Cannington scored three unanswered goals. Minden's goalie put in his usual tremendous effort to keep it close for most of the game.

The third game saw Fenelon edge Ops 5-2 with a third-period scoring rally. The game was tied up at 2-2 after the second period, but Fenelon came on strong with three goals in the final frame to take the win.

Minden's Tri-County team took to the ice in the fourth game, facing an overwhelming Cannington club and lost 11-0. It was another good performance by Minden despite the score.

The fifth game of the tournament was a see-saw battle between Ops and Port Carling, with Ops coming out on the better side of the 6-4 score. Ops won it in the second frame with their three unanswered goals.

By the sixth game of the tournament, it looked as though the Minden OMHA team was running out of steam. They couldn't seem to get organized and dropped a 5-1 decision to Fenelon.

The 'C' division final saw Minden OMHA playing off with the Tri-County team. The pressure was off both teams and they went out on the ice for a good fun game.

Minden OMHA won the game 6-0.

The 'B' division final put Ops and Port Carling together for another good match. Port Carling ran out of gas in this game, allowing Ops to take the 8-3 win.

The 'A' division final was one of the closest of the tournament as Fenelon and Cannington faced off for three periods of intense play.

Cannington fought to a 3-0 lead after two periods of play, but Fenelon came on strong in the third to narrow the gap with two goals of their own. With 40 seconds left, Fenelon pulled their goalie and applied tremendous pressure on the Cannington net. Cannington, however, put one into Fenelon's open net to seal the championship.

Lend a hand with Seals

From the very young through all age groups, the Lung Association is in the community educating and helping through its programs. Just think what your gift can do. Each Christmas Seal you place on mail and parcels may mean that a group of people in your area will receive help, and that more and more children will learn to take care of their lungs.

Firefighters praised

in spite of the shortage of time. "We could have done a lot more with some time," he said. Gifts for the family are still coming in to the township office, he said.

Davis also praised the firefighters and their wives for their work in fighting the fire on this cold day.

"I would like to add a note of praise for the firefighters who braved the frigid winter conditions. The cold weather made their task all that more difficult and I think they deserve a vote of appreciation for their dedication." Davis also applauded the efforts of the firefighters' wives in bringing hot drinks and sandwiches. "It's good to see the teamwork by the whole organization."

Just a few New Years suggestions

It's that time of year when many of us face the challenging task of reviewing the past twelve months and trying to decide what we can do to improve our lives in the coming year.

We would like to take this opportunity to suggest some New Year's Resolutions which, if adhered to, we believe will be beneficial in addressing the many issues which will confront us in 1990.

To the residents of Anson, Hindon and Minden: Allow council to find the land necessary to establish a municipal industrial park, so Minden can provide for its industries without having to endure spot rezoning.

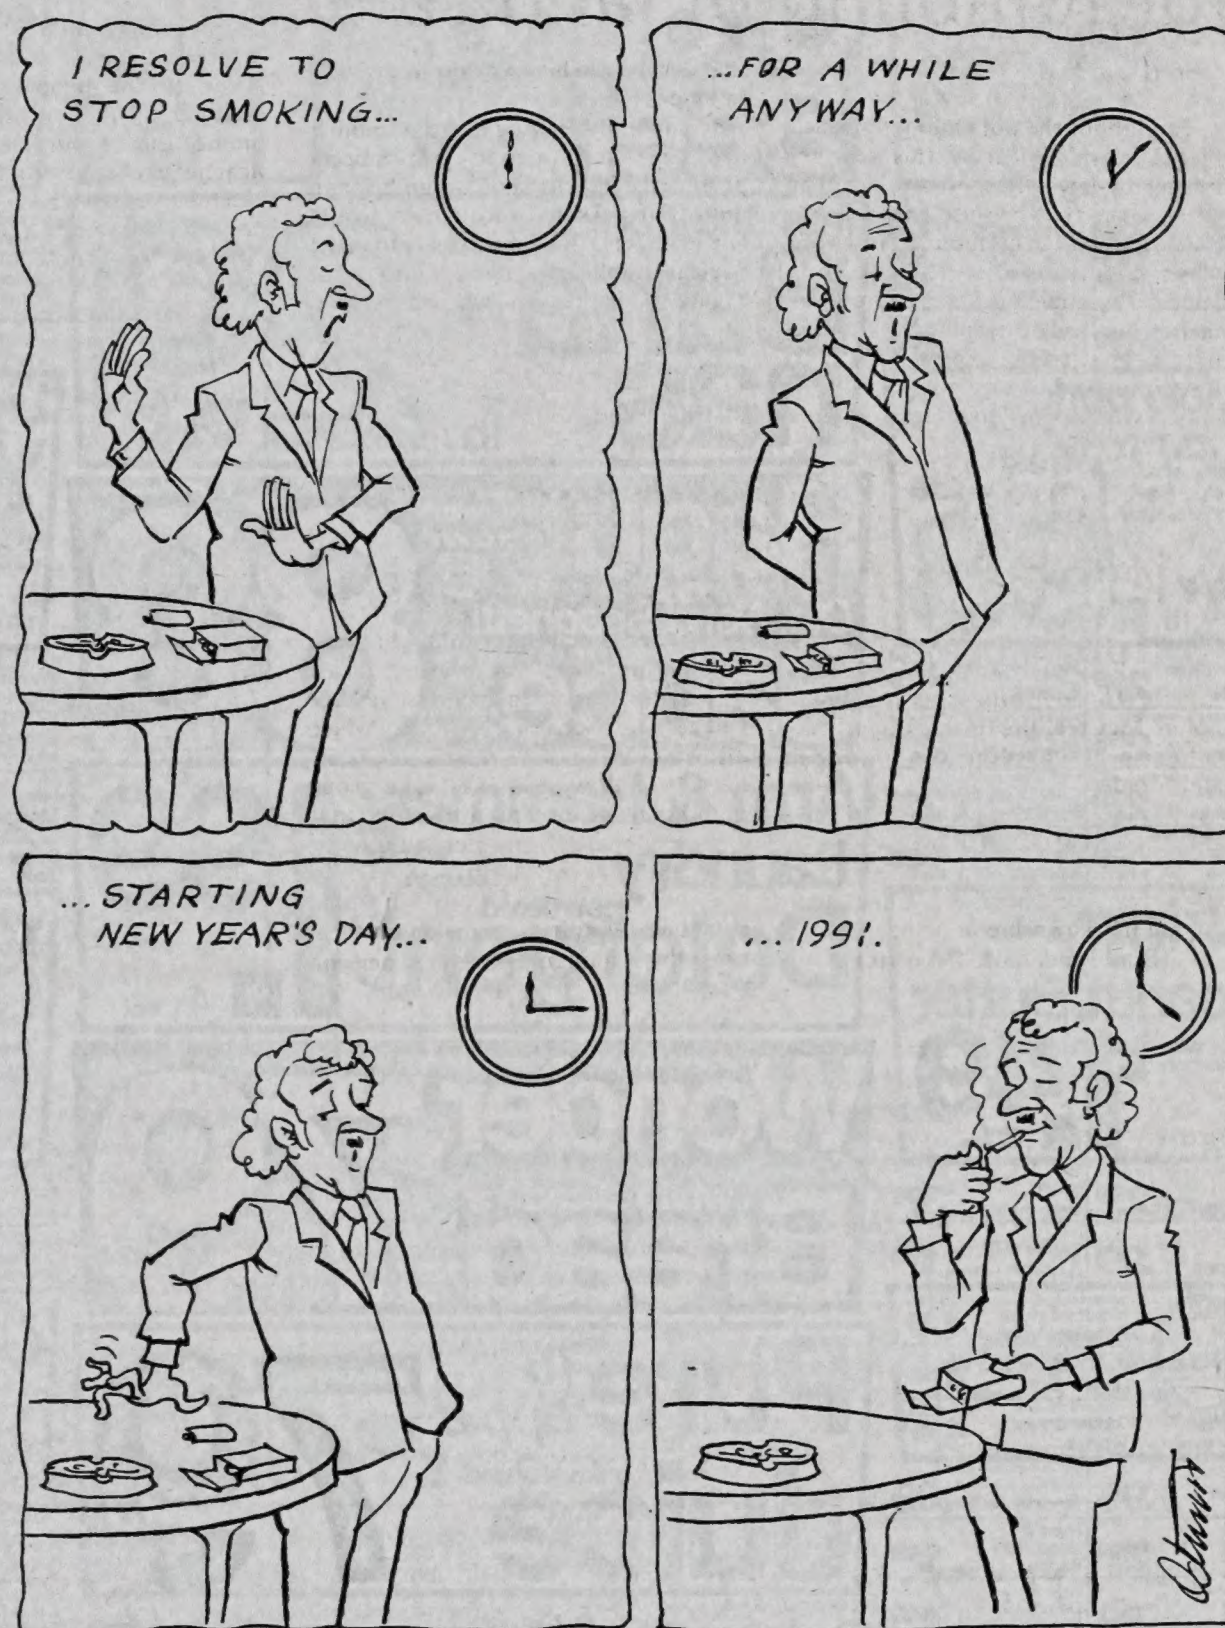

To Health Minister Elinor Caplan: Stand by your commitment to act on the recommendations of the health study currently being conducted in Haliburton County. If we need hospital beds, fulfill your promise and let us have them. If we need increased services to keep people at home, make sure the funding is there to support these programs.

To federal Environment Minister Lucien Bouchard, the Trent-Severn Waterway officials, the water levels advisory committee and the Ministry of Natural Resources: Make an effort to enter into meaningful dialogue aimed at resolving the perennial problem of low water levels in the reservoir lakes.

To the members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council: Attempt to put aside your personal differences and work together for the greater good of the township. It's not always necessary to agree on every issue, but by agreeing to disagree you will be able to tackle the problems ahead without digressing into name-calling and personal attacks.

To Haliburton County Council: Initiate honest, open discussion on the restructuring of the county system and give local residents the opportunity to understand what's at stake and to clearly express their opinions.

And finally to all residents of Haliburton County: continue to take an active interest in the changes taking place in our area and never hesitate to voice your feelings, on any issue to the appropriate level of government.

The profession everybody loves to loathe

First thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers.

William Shakespeare penned those words for a minor character in his play Henry VI nearly 400 years ago. Last month in a souvenir shop in Stratford, Ontario, I saw racks and racks of T shirts, all sizes, all colours, all bearing the same slogan. "How are the Lawyer T Shirts selling?" I asked the clerk.

"Can't keep 'em in stock" she replied with a smirk.

Ah yes...lawyerphobia. The profession everybody loves to loathe. 'Twas ever thus.

Almost ever, anyway. The ancient Romans

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

groused and grumbled about lawyers. The Bible smites them hip and thigh (Luke 11:46). The English poet Keats wrote "I think we may class the lawyer in the natural history of monsters". The nation of Andorra was so unimpressed with lawyers that it banned them from its courtrooms by government decree way back in 1864. That decree is still in effect.

The twentieth century has been no kinder to the legal profession. Maybe it was the spectacle of sleaze-exuding, courtroom buzzards like Melvin Belli and Marvin Mitchelson. Maybe it was the numbing realization that most of our politicians started out as lawyers (is that a lateral career move, or a demotion?). Lawyers have become society's official professional scapegoats, eclipsing even dentists and journalists.

How do I know? From all the lawyer jokes

Reader wants explanation for fumbling of land sale

Editor:

Talk about the pot calling the kettle black. Wasn't it earlier this year the former by-law officer was told not to speak to the press because he was always putting his foot in his mouth? Now I see, when council is discussing its own lawyer's opinion on a very important matter, our land developing Reeve comes out with a crude expression hardly flattering to his elected position. It appears he doesn't like legal opinions that differ from his own, but what a way to express it.

Incidentally, having heard a number of different versions as to why the recent proposed acquisition of the lands for an industrial park fell through — would any member of our council care to make a clear public statement as to what exactly did happen and who was responsible??

G. Robinson,
Blairhampton.

Minden's in reverse with commercial growth

Editor:

Note: The following letter was sent to Elaine McCrea, the then acting by-law enforcement officer for Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Dear Ms. McCrea:

Re: Signs on Part Lot 2, Conc. A, in the Township of Minden.
(Brad Bradamore Property).

I was very disturbed to see a misuse of an interpretation of our present zoning By-Law #86-26.

I wonder who the complainant is, about my professional signs done by Don Nye and done in a professional manner.

I was not extended the courtesy of a personal visit by yourself before I received a registered letter dated Oct. 26/89. This is another example of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden going backwards in the commercial growth of the community. Instead of a letter sent welcoming a new business to their town, they send a letter like this. If you had asked me I would have told you that I am enjoying a legal non-conforming use on my property and fall under the category of Section 3. 1(d) 1., which allows a sign to be 1.8 sq. metres as my home was previously used as a group home, denture therapist office, and now a professional office which is the same as a denture therapist office.

I would like you to know I don't mind someone dumping on me because at times this is human. However, when you start rubbing it in I will come out fighting. This is the situation you have put me in.

It is ironic that on Oct. 4 I received a zoning compliance letter from you that I complied with the Zoning by-Law #86-26 and my signs were up at this point and then almost one month later you send me a contravention notice. You also acknowledge that an application for rezoning has been submitted. Surely to God you would look at all these unique intricacies before you would send such a ridiculous letter.

If this matter continues, I will take it

Ellises part of community

Editor:

Through your paper we would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Minden for making us feel so welcome and "at home" during our year as part of the teacher exchange program.

Our lives have been greatly enriched as we've become part of the community and come to know and love so many people.

We've had a wonderful year and it's with great reluctance that we leave to return to Australia. However, armed with photographs, mementos and precious memories we will always be reminded of Minden and our time here.

We look forward to a time in the future when we'll be able to return and renew friendships.

Thank you Minden. We'll miss you.

Court jesters don't see humour in jokes

going around, that's how. Have you heard them?

What's brown and black and looks good on a lawyer?

A doberman.

Why do piranhas refuse to attack lawyers?

Professional courtesy.

What's the difference between a dead skunk and a dead lawyer in the middle of the road?

Skid marks in front of the skunk.

Why does Ottawa have the most lawyers and Baie Comeau the most toxic waste dumps?

Baie Comeau got first choice.

What do you call the fear lawyers experience when they step in doggy-doo?

Fear of melting.

This is vicious stuff! So vicious that even some lawyers aren't laughing anymore. The American Bar Association is making nervous, throat-clearing noises about "the dangers of lawyer-bashing".

So far the ABA hasn't threatened to sue anybody.

They'd have their attache cases full if they did. A whole slew of anti-lawyer joke books hit the bookstores this year -- titles such as What To Do with A Dead Lawyer and also one called Skid Marks (see joke above). There's a popular syndicated column in many Canadian newspapers called Court Jesters. It's written by one Peter MacDonald and it's all about irregular court goings-on in this country -- most of them hilarious, very few of them edifying to the lawyers involved.

Mister MacDonald comes by his material first hand. He's a practicing lawyer in Hanover, Ontario.

That brings up a truly curious characteristic about the epidemic of lawyer jokes going around: -- most of the jokes come from lawyers.

Which may be the most promising feature of the profession -- that it's members have the grace to laugh at themselves.

One final lawyer joke -- this one about F.E. Smith, a brilliant turn-of-the-century British barrister with a tongue like a Samurai's sword. Nobody, not even judges, cared to bandy words with F.E. Smith. He always won.

Well, almost always. Once, twitting a judge about the size of his belly, Smith asked if he expected a boy or a girl. "If it's a boy" said the judge, "I'll call him John. If it's a girl I'll call her Mary. But if, as I suspect, it's only wind, I'll call it F.E. Smith."

Minden residents light up season with decorations

Sparkling lights lit up the homes around Minden again this Christmas season adding a splash of colour and a dash of spirit to the village.

With so many homes and businesses decked out with ribbons, bows and garland, the judges for this year's Minden BIA Christmas in the Village Decorating Contest had their hands full in picking the winners.

A touch of Georgia charm showed through at the home of Mary and John Heller, who claimed first prize in the Residential Outdoors and the Residential Door categories of this contest.

With flood light casting a myriad of colours on their North Water Street home, the couple earned top honours for their outdoor display. In addition to the splendid show of colour from the flood lights, all the trees around the Hellers' home were glittering with hundreds of smaller lights.

A special display of dancing lights in the windows on the north side of their home must have caught the judges' eyes. From outside the house, the tiny twinkling lights appear to flash on and off at random. Inside, though, you can see the lights are dancing to the music of a variety of Christmas tunes.

Mary Heller, who is originally from Georgia, bought a unique gadget the last time she was in the U.S. which plays music and makes the lights twinkle.

In addition to their spectacular outdoor display, the Hellers also took top honours for their door decorations. Bordering the entranceway to their house is a string of garland with ribbons and tiny bows. And on the door itself is a woolly latch-hooked Santa Claus peering through a beautiful wreath.

The Hellers will receive $50 from the BIA for each of their two honours. Second place in the Outdoor category was won by Gwen Cox. Kim Campbell won third.

Gwen Cox also won second place in the door decoration category, while Maxine Snell was third.

Gambell's Antiques and Nostalgia was the winner in the Commercial Out-

Black and white photography just can't do justice to the colourful decorations that won prizes in the BIA Christmas decorating contest. door display. The beautiful old house on North Water Street lends itself to Christmas decorations, and owner Ron Gambell took advantage of this. The front porch of the store was crammed with decorations, and odds and ends. The arrangement of these articles, many of which are available for sale, made of a pleasing festive display. The clincher, though, was out on the back porch, where another display of goods was neatly arranged. In this display was an old sled piled high with gift boxes wrapped in what looks like aging newspapers.

Finishing second in the Commercial Outdoor category was Mabel's Cut and Curl. Country Fabrics and Crafts took third place.

The Homestead Schnitzel House was judged to be have the best Commercial Indoor decorations. The restaurant on the highway was decorated throughout with tinsel and garland. A small Christmas tree added to the seasonal charm, tipping the scales for this winner.

The Something Shop on Minden's Main Street took second place in this category while the Agnes Jamieson Gallery was third.

BIA member Gord Monk, who chaired this year's contest, said he was impressed with the quality of the entries. "It's really nice to see all the people put so much effort into decorating their homes and businesses," he said.

This was the fourth year of the contest and the level of participation was better than ever. There were 32 entries overall, with some taking part in more than one category.

As more and more people put the effort into decorating their homes and businesses, Monk says the festive beauty of the village grows each year. "The painstaking effort that went into these decorations only serves to beautify the town," he says.

With the obvious success of this year's contest, Monk says the BIA will continue with it in years to come. He said he would like to see the township get into the spirit by decorating the Main Street and river bank with lights. The natural beauty of the river bank should be enhanced with lights and decorations, he feels.

Monk gives credit to the wonderful job done by this year's judges. Marion and Stan Hill, Gord Samels, and John and Mary Sagal visited all the homes and businesses that entered the contest, scoring each on a scale of one to 10 and choosing the winners.

First prize in each category is $50. Second prize is $35 and third prize is $20.

John and Mary Heller took first place for their beautifully-decorated door.

An important announcement about Unemployment Insurance

The Government of Canada recently presented to Parliament a series of amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act (UIA). The purpose of the proposed amendments is to improve existing legislation and to provide additional funds for programs and job training in areas critical to Canada's economic future. Major improvements include additional maternity/parental benefits and the extension of coverage to people who choose to work beyond age 65.

Although passed by the House of Commons on November 6th, 1989, Bill C-21 is still under consideration by the Senate and will not become law on December 31.

Under one section of the current law, workers may qualify for regular UI benefits with at least 10 to 14 weeks of work during the previous year. That section of the law expires January 6th, 1990 and until amendments to the Act are adopted the following interim rule applies:

Anyone making a claim for regular UI benefits that would have started on or after January 7, 1990, must have worked a minimum of 14 weeks during the last year to qualify.

Is MNR 'taming' or ruining Ontario forests?

Reflections

by Dr. David Suzuki

Since May 1988, Ontario's Environmental Assessment Board (EAB) has been meeting in Thunder Bay to assess the timber management program of the Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) and the forestry industry. It's an immense job. Eighty per cent of "useful" forest in Ontario is Crown land that, in principle, belongs to the public. A whopping 40% of the province - 385,000 square kilometres - is under review. The EAB rulings will reverberate well into the 21st century since directly and indirectly, the forest industry employs over 150,000 people brings in over $9 billion and contributes $800 million in taxes annually. Almost overlooked is the fact that those vast tracks of forest, if left standing, absorb and hold water, cleanse the atmosphere, harbor wildlife and prevent erosion.

Crown lands are administered by MNR and this is the first time the environmental effects of its practices are being examined. Critics contend the Department has too cozy a relationship with the industry it is supposed to regulate. They charge that MNR relies on industry data, pays top dollar for roads and silviculture and allows excessive clearcutting. MNR has been preparing its environmental report for 12 years! In 1986, a university Dean of forestry criticized MNR officials for misusing statistics, failing to listen to the public and "functioning as bureaucrats in the very worst sense of the word".

During the entire period the report was being prepared, the forest industry and MNR were exempt from any environmental assessment. The current hearings could go on for years while forestry practices will continue on as usual.

Seventeen months of hearings have already generated 160 volumes of transcripts and 950 exhibits, and MNR's submission still isn't complete. After MNR finishes, the industry will present its case and only then will public submissions be made. It is a protracted and technically demanding process that drains the limited resources of the public interest groups. (For information about public input write Forests For Tomorrow, c/o Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ont. M3B 2W8 or phone 416-960-2284.)

The transcripts are highly technical and numbingly boring, but contain nuggets of insight and revelation of attitudes and beliefs. MNR perceives its main role as the management of the forests to provide timber for the forest industry.

The Department spends a mere $10 million on wildlife and 80-90% of that goes for game animals like moose and deer and fur species. Perhaps 15% is spent on non-game vertebrates and endangered species. By way of contrast, in 1987-88 MNR gave almost $73 million to the industry for road building and silviculture on Forest Management Agreement lands.

Even the EAB defines its role as ensuring "...the future of the forest products industry in Ontario. Environmentally sound forestry practices and government regulations are to be designed to provide a secure supply of wood."

Nothing presents this "forest as resource" view more strikingly than testimony by MNR's Frank Kennedy, that "...we have to bring the forest into a managed state ... we are looking at bringing the natural forest into a state of management and, as such, during the first rotations we can expect significant fluctuations depending upon the age-class structure and species composition of the wild forest. Upon bringing it under a managed state ... we will then be in a much greater certainty what level would be sustained".

MNR and the forest industry see the forests in terms of board feet, jobs and profit. By definition, old growth forests are wild and MNR wants to tame them, to make them more uniform and predictable. But a forest is a dynamic community of organisms about whose basic biology and interdependence we are almost completely ignorant. A forest is the sum total of air, water and soil and the vast array of genetically diverse plant, animal and microbial species they support. A few of the species are trees for which we happen to have a use.

We know next to nothing about what creates such a dynamic entity and we will never be able to recreate one. Nevertheless, we are using our technological musclepower to invade forests and clearcut entire watersheds. We stick small trees into the ground and call it reforestation while claiming that spraying chemicals that kill a broad spectrum of "weed" species of trees and insect "pests" is scientific management of a renewable "resource". The hubris and shortsightedness of such a policy is breathtaking. The challenge for the EAB is to see through these delusions to ensure there will always be forests, not tree plantations, for our children and generations to come.

By-law officer responds to Bradamore's letter

The following is the response to Mr. Bradamore by by-law officer Tom Hubercheck.

Dear Brad:

Re: Your letter to Elaine McCrea of December 6 regarding signs.

Elaine has forwarded your letter to me to deal with as you seem to think her prejudice in this matter.

Elaine's letter to you on October 26, 1989 was one of three letters sent to local businesses contravening sign by-laws. Each of these complaints was brought forward by Minden business people and local residents. The other two businesses have since taken down their sign after receiving requests to do so.

The size of your sign is regulated by Zoning By-law 86-26 Section 3.1. (c) 1. "Home Occupations - Residential zones" as previously pointed out by Elaine.

Your reference to 86-26 3.1(d)1. "Home Occupations - Other zones" is somewhat confusing to me as your property is currently zoned R-1 which falls under "Home Occupations - Residential zones".

The zoning compliance letter supplied to your lawyer upon closing indicates Residential First Density and makes mention that a re-zoning application has been made. Either one of your signs will obviously comply at such time as re-zoning is attained, until that time this department is obliged to request that you restrict your advertising to one sign not exceeding 0.2 metres square.

You should also take notice to the Municipal Records Search Form supplied to your lawyer that under compliance and use that the property is defined as "Single Family Dwelling."

If the previous owner had a legal non-conforming use it was obviously not transferred by the Municipality at the time of purchase.

In regards to extending a welcome to a new business, I couldn't agree more! Any municipality that hopes to experience substantial growth needs to have an open arm policy.

I would like to personally welcome Bradamore Planning, Consulting and Design Services to Minden. A consulting firm in town extends the range of services offered by local business professionals to newcomers in the area and helps promote the Municipality as up and coming.

We look forward to having plans and projects submitted by someone that knows local zoning by-laws and I wish you and your family much success and happiness.

I have worked on Commercial projects for the past 15 years or more and if I can be of any help please do not hesitate to call. It will give me an opportunity to extend the same courtesy that you offered me when we were renovating our restaurant.

Yours truly,
Thomas Hubercheck,
Chief Building Official
By-law Enforcement Officer.

Council should encourage new businesses; Bradamore to my lawyer and sue the municipality for harassment. I think you and the council should send letters to new businesses opening up in Minden and our community welcoming them to our community instead of harassment letters. This is one of the reasons the community could go backwards instead of forwards.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact this office.

Yours truly,
Bradley Bradamore

Novices shut out Haliburton

Minden OMHA novice team hosted Haliburton Huskies on Saturday, December 23 at 1:00 p.m. Previously these two teams played to a 2 - 2 tie in Haliburton. The two teams opened the game quickly, with both teams skating hard.

Minden opened the scoring on a solo rush by Ryan Anderson at 4:03 of the first period. In the second period Minden turned it on with a goal going to Nicholas Kulas unassisted. Danny Jordan scored the third Minden goal assisted by Danny Vanderlip. Ryan Anderson scored two more goals in the second period. The first of Ryan's goals was assisted by Chris Neilson and Cameron Neville and the second goal was assisted by Philip Daniels, giving Minden a 5 - 0 lead at the end of the second period.

The third period scoring was a solo goal going to Ryan Anderson unassisted. This was a solid defensive game from the goal out. The defense never got caught out of position and the forwards played good two-way hockey.

The team's record now stands at nine wins, five losses and three ties. Our next home game is Saturday, January 6 against Beaverton.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

term plan for dealing with the accommodation needs of the school system which calls for the construction of new schools. It is proposed that the Victoria Street site be sold to help finance the capital costs of construction.

A steady decrease in the overall level of provincial funding was the other thorn in the side of the local board of education.

Although the board's 1989 budget saw an increase of only 10 per cent due to inflation and a growth in the student population, the province increased the grants to Haliburton by less than one per cent.

The shortfall was made up by an increase in the money raised through local property taxes. This year 65 per cent of the board's budget was raised locally compared to 61 per cent in 1988.

During the 1988-89 year, the trustees adopted several new policy statements covering issues such as drug and alcohol abuse, discipline on school buses, and step three of the smoke-free environment plan.

Penalty free hockey proves to be a winner

Good, clean, fun hockey received another endorsement when former Team Canada and National Hockey League star Paul Henderson announced that almost 60 percent of the teams that entered the 1989 Esso Penalty Free Sweepstakes won or tried their game.

Henderson made his remarks at a media conference to launch the 1990 Esso Penalty Free Sweepstakes. "For the second year in a row, the results of this program prove that penalty-free hockey is winning hockey even at the N.H.L. level. Last season the New York Rangers played penalty free and defeated the New York Islanders 5 to 1 in a National Hockey league game on January 7, 1989."

The Esso Penalty Free Sweepstakes is another amateur hockey initiative to promote skills, safety and sportsmanship in Canada's most popular sport. Developed by the members of the Hockey Development Centre for Ontario the program is sponsored by Esso Petroleum Canada and supported by the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

Any Ontario amateur hockey team that plays a penalty-free game from January 1 to 31, 1990, is eligible to enter the Sweepstakes. By submitting an entry form and a copy of the game sheet the entire team will be entered into the contest and have an opportunity to win the Grand Prize; a Nintendo Action Set. Another 15 team prizes of J.I.L. Citizen personal stereo cassette players will also be up for grabs when the random draw is held on February 21, 1990.

"Everyone is a winner in this contest. Each player on all eligible teams will receive an Achievement Award Certificate and a colourful helmet decal in recognition of their penalty-free game and it's this emphasis on team play and sportsmanship that attracted our sponsorship," said Rob Easson of Esso Petroleum Canada.

Last year's program attracted over 2,800 entries during the 17 days of the contest, so with the Sweepstakes entering its third season, expectations are high for even more penalty-free games in January of 1990.

Entry forms are available from local amateur hockey association representatives, Ministry of Tourism and Recreation Field Offices, H.D.C.O. Members' offices and more than 650 arenas throughout Ontario.

As of January 1, 1990 you no longer pay OHIP premiums And you are still covered

When will premium payments end?

January 1, 1990.

Ontario residents are responsible for paying their premiums until the end of December 1989, for the period through March 31, 1990.

Will my health care coverage continue?

Yes. If you were covered you will continue to be covered under your present OHIP number.

Payment of the final premium will ensure continuous coverage to March 31, 1990.

After April 1, 1990, coverage will automatically remain valid for all eligible residents of Ontario.

Ontario's health care system covers all residents of the province including students, senior citizens, retired people, people on social assistance, people who are employed, unemployed or self-employed.

What should I do if I do not have an OHIP number?

Contact your local OHIP office.

Will the change affect personal coverage under company plans such as semi-private coverage or company drug plans?

No.

Why did the Ontario Government eliminate OHIP premiums?

In the past, many companies paid all or a percentage of OHIP for their employees. Other companies paid nothing. Many Ontarians paid OHIP premiums on their own. Unfortunately, many of the people who had to pay their own premiums were those who could least afford them. The new Employer Health Tax and the elimination of OHIP premiums will make the system fair for everyone.

Will there be enough money to maintain the quality of health care we enjoy today?

Yes. Last year nearly fourteen billion dollars, one third of the entire provincial budget, went towards providing health care for Ontario residents. The elimination of premiums in no way affects the amount of money the government has committed to health care. It simply changes one of the sources of the money. In the past OHIP premiums only paid for a very small part of the Ontario health care system. Most of the money for health care came from general revenues collected through the tax system.

What do I do when I go to the doctor or the hospital?

Do what you usually do. Use your OHIP number. It's still the same. Present your number to show that you are eligible for health care services.

Did we miss answering one of your questions?

If you have further questions here are two ways we can help you:

- 1) Call your local OHIP office. You'll find the number in the blue pages of your local telephone directory.
- or
- 2) Call the Ontario Ministry of Health toll-free number: 1-800-268-1154.

Ski trails are ready for use at Centre

Cross-country ski trails are ready for skiers at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre. Located ten kilometres south of Dorset on Highway 35, the Frost Centre provides 22 kilometres of groomed and track-set trails.

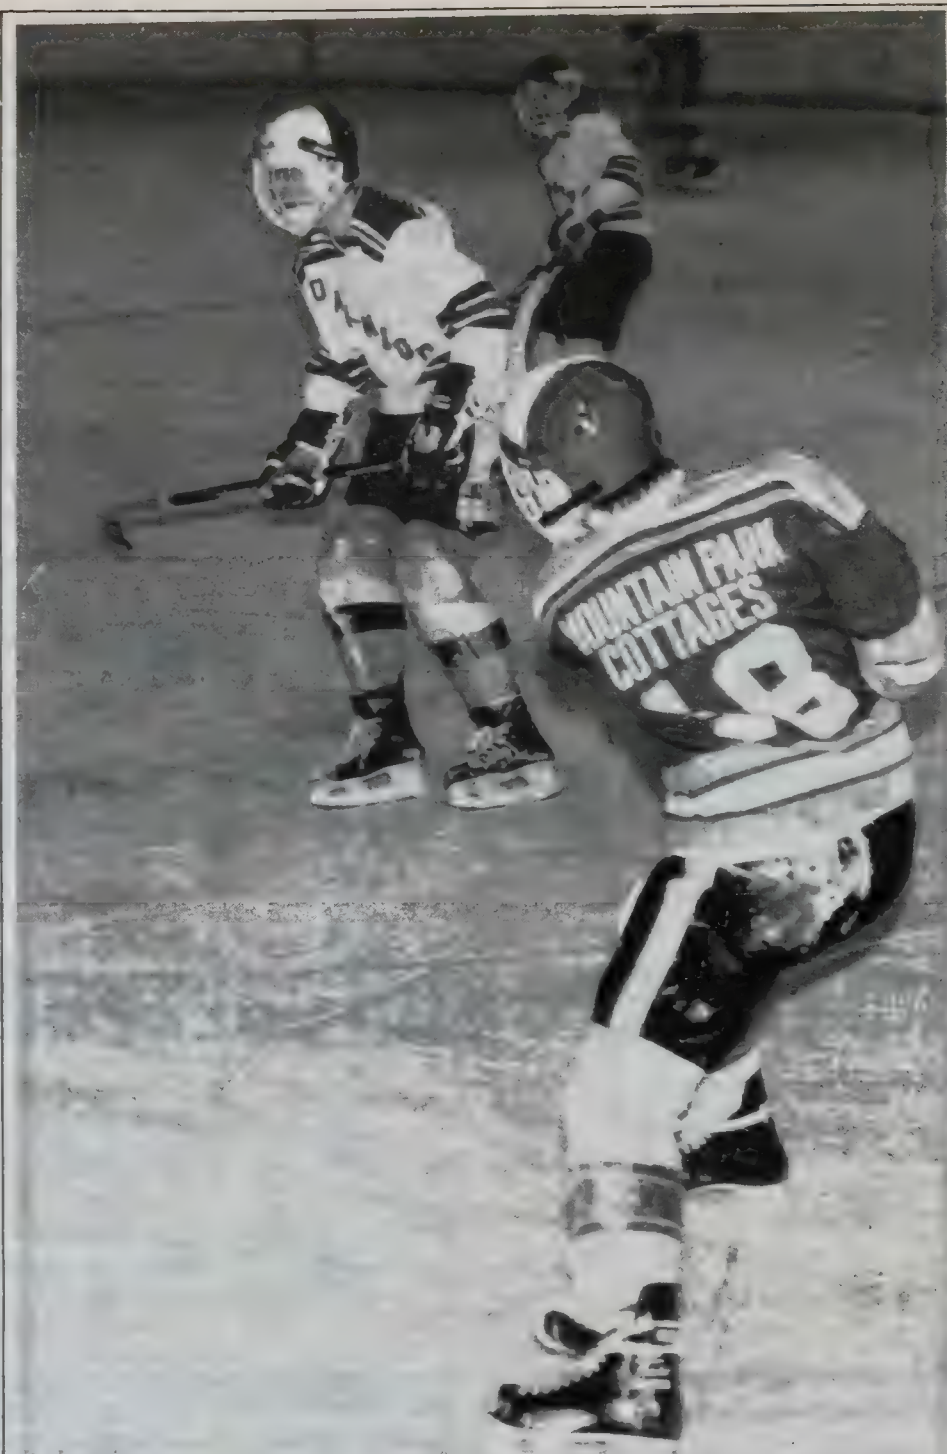

"A total of seven looped ski trails, challenge recreational skiers and serve as an on-site demonstration of trail management undertaken by the Ministry of Natural Resources", explains Jim Barker, Director of the Frost Centre. "The Frost Centre is committed to foster a public understanding of natural resources, their management and use."

Travelling through hardwood and evergreen forests, past maple sugar shack, the trails loop over the hilly terrain of the Muskoka and Haliburton Highlands. Here, novice to expert skiers find trails to meet their own experience level.

Ski Shelters, located on longer trails, are equipped with wood stoves. Washroom facilities and firewood are provided at these shelters.

Note that although trails are groomed, there are presently no ski patrols on the system, so skiers should travel with a companion and bring appropriate clothing and food to spend the day out-of-doors.

Trails fees are $3 per day for individuals or $8 per day for families.

Six teams competed in an action-packed Bantam hockey tournament at the Minden arena last Thursday. In this game, Minden battled to a 4-4 tie with Oakwood after three periods of play. An overtime period failed to break the tie and the game had to be settled with a shoot-off, which Oakwood won.

I'm doing some housecleaning in the back of your mind...

Hi! It's me, your conscience. With all the things we have on our mind, it's no wonder you can't remember where you left your socks!

Old phone numbers... "didn't do my homework because..." excuses. I'm throwing all this stuff out.

But some of the best parts of you are in here, too. The parts that want to give a friend a helping hand or give a little more time to a worthy cause. Parts that care about your community and your neighbours.

Let's move this stuff up to the front of your mind and use it to change the world. Helping causes we care about will be a breeze without all the clutter, so let's get to it!

Oh, and by the way, that little widget you can't find is in the back of your top dresser drawer...

Imagine is a national program to encourage giving and volunteering.

New exhibit opens at gallery

Tigers and Chrysanthemums, a display of 19th Century embroidery from the collection of the Museum for Textiles, opens January 13 at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton.

China -- the name of the country -- comes from the word silk. The art of embroidery was probably invented in China during the Shang Dynasty, about 3,000 years ago. The earliest examples of Chinese embroidery that still exist are from the Han Dynasty and were made during the first century A.D.

Included in this exhibition are astonishing examples of imperial and folk embroidery from the Qing Dynasty period, mostly from the 19th century. Much of it was made by women in their own homes for family use, though some was produced in workshops by professional embroiderers.

Chinese religious and philosophical systems were concerned with the interrelationships of humanity with nature. The whole natural world was important, and objects in it came to carry symbolic meaning. Often the symbolic association of an object came from the way the word for it was pronounced: the bat symbolizes happiness because the word for bat sounds like the word for happiness.

Chinese culture expresses a profound respect for continuity with the past. Systems of religious and philosophical belief slowly evolve and lose force but their graphic symbols continue to be reproduced as a kind of quiet mirror of kinetic past. Consequently, even twentieth century Chinese embroidery is filled with resonant images of good fortune (lu, the deer, is pronounced like lu, "big salary"), images of the changing seasons (peonies, chrysanthemums and so forth), of longevity (peaches), and of the connection between heaven and earth (dragons, clouds, waves and rocks).

Tigers and Chrysanthemums will feature approximately 55 pieces of Chinese embroidery including garments and children's hats. The works have been selected from the permanent collection of the Museum for Textiles located in Toronto.

Tigers and Chrysanthemums opens at the Rails' End Gallery on Saturday, January 13, 1990 and continues until February 10, 1990.

Enlightened world leadership fuels astonishing global change

Report From Ottawa

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Since the end of the Second World War, what Winston Churchill described as the Iron Curtain ensured that Western-style democratic ideals and the Soviet view of the world remained diametrically and immutably opposed. For a very long time, no meaningful dialogue in between East and West took place; the result was a political system in perverse and deadly harmony—one unable or unwilling to fully understand and give legitimacy to the other.

In recent years, though, we have witnessed astonishing change. Courageous leadership in both the East and the West has permitted an enlightened, more global view of world political differences; and this has encouraged sober dialogue, which has, in turn, beget progress.

When Prime Minister Mulroney visited the Soviet Union in November to meet with his counterpart, General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev, he used the occasion to express Canada's perspective of the change sweeping the world.

What follows is an excerpt of the resulting Canada-Soviet Political Declaration.

"Canada and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic see the modern world as an interdependent community of nations. They believe that problems have come to the fore that are of global character and can best be resolved through joint efforts by all members of the world community. They also believe that international co-operation is essential to the development of individual states."

"On the eve of the third millennium, new and innovative approaches are required free from the stereotypes of the past that have had negative consequences for the entire complex of international relations. Post-war ideological tension as reflected in the Cold War period is giving way to a more positive spirit which Canada and the Soviet Union will do their utmost to foster.

"Neither Canada nor the Soviet Union seeks to minimize the problems wrought by history. Many of them persist today, including the post-war legacy of a divided Europe and high levels of armaments. Both countries are committed to building bridges of understanding and co-operation to overcome this legacy and strengthen their common search for security."

"In this context, Canada and the Soviet Union respect the rights of the peoples of Europe to pursue paths of political and economic change, without outside interference and in an atmosphere of international confidence and security."

Clearly, the deadlock is broken. While significant ideological distinctions persist, there is now a brisk current of ideas flowing between East and West. Out of this process shall emerge progress toward a peaceful and prosperous planet.

Local student helps build bus fund

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

We had a delightful surprise for our bus fund. One of the Grade 5 students about 10 yrs. old decided he would like to do something special. He got the idea of placing jars around Archie Stouffer School with a sign saying "Help the Bus Fund". Thursday noon he came to Hyland Crest with what he had received from the jars. Linda, Doris and Rheta (Administrator) came to our dining room with the boy to present me (President of Resident Council) with his donation amounting to $45.46. This shows where if there is a will there is a way. We sincerely thank Michael Burley for his welcome donation.

In the afternoon the Ladies Auxillary of Hyland Crest brought a very delicious lunch to serve the Residents. While some of the ladies cleaned up, the others entertained us by singing Christmas Carols. We certainly enjoyed the tea party and the entertainment and thank you very much for this and all the other work you do for us.

Thursday evening we played bingo. It was called by Jim Carrell, whom we thank very much.

Friday afternoon we had Happy Hour with Lloyd Madill, Carmen Peters and Charlie and Doris providing the music and Connie Sawyer singing. We thank them very much for their assistance.

In the evening the Minden Gospel Church came to the auditorium for an evening of carol singing and they served us with a wonderful lunch. All the Resident's who could possibly be there were present. You have our sincere thanks.

Saturday the Minden Lioness were here in the afternoon. They had a Carol Singing and gave all the Residents' goody bags, which we appreciate very much May and Roy.

Sunday my sister and husband come to see me, May visited with me and Roy went to Haliburton and brought Wilda La Rue my sister-in-law down to see me and then we had our dinner out. It was a surprise to me.

Sunday night Rev. John Burgess had the service in the chapel and we had Alice Jones play the organ again and Ruby came out to the service. We had a nice number out. Thanking those who helped.

At the service Mr. Burgess told us his mother was to go to Lindsay for an eye operation but since her Doctor was sick she would have to wait till Wednesday and that she was in Minden Hospital till the time to go. We all pray it will be a success.

On December 18 Ada Turrall had her grandson Allen Moulton, his wife Donna and their 3 children Alanna 16 yrs. last June, Erin 11 yrs. July 28, and Drey 13 yrs. Jan. 28, 1990, to visit her for Christmas from Newmarket.

Evelyn Coleman came Monday for Bible Study and she followed the life of Mary.

In the evening Ruth Rice and Ena Marion showed films in the auditorium. They were "The Man Who Loved Bears", in two parts a short film on Mickey Mouse decided not to be seen. We appreciate you coming very much.

Tuesday afternoon Marjorie Rennick and a group of singers came to sing carols with us. We thank them very much.

Chapel service was taken by Rev. E. Moll Tuesday morning and also communion service.

Top mushers coming to derby

A record number of world champion mushers will be coming to Minden in mid-January to compete for $22,000 in prize money and maximum points in the race for world medal ranking.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby, will be held January 13 and 14.

Race Governor Val Loughheed says eight 1989 International Sled Dog Racing Association (IS-DRA) medallists have already registered. They include Neal Johnson of Minnesota, silver medallist in the ten- and eight-dog classes; Robert Stevens of North Pole, Alaska, bronze medallist in the eight-dog; Val Belandof Minnesota and Dorothy Arthurs of Idaho, gold and silver medallists respectively in the six-dog class; Wade Dennis of Ohio and Brenda Valletta of Colorado, silver and bronze medallists in the four-dog; and Stuart and Michelle Osthoff of Minnesota, gold and silver medallists in the three-dog.

Terri Killam of North-boro, Massachusetts, IS-DRA eight-dog gold medal winner in 1987 and 1988, will also be returning. Killam is a familiar favourite at the Minden race where she took first prize in the eight-dog class and second place in the four-dog for two years in a row.

In just six years, the Minden Sled Dog Derby has become the world's largest limited-class race. The unprecedented interest being shown this year is a reflection of the excellent reputation the race enjoys in the mushing community. As a result, organizers have limited entries to 60 teams in each class (four-dog and eight-dog). With three weeks still to go, 80 of the 120 spots in the starting chute have already been taken by mushers from coast to coast on both sides of the border.

The Main Street start and finish ensures spectators have a ring-side view of the action which starts each day before noon and continues to late afternoon.

The delightful kid-and-mutt race will be held on Saturday after the official heats are concluded. There will be demonstrations of kick-sledding on Main Street between the eight- and four-dog heats, and spectators will have a chance to try this growing sport for themselves.

As always, everyone is invited to visit the "pit" area throughout the week-end to talk with the mushers and look over the dogs and puppies.

There will also be a winter art exhibit featuring the work of local artists and artisans. "Catch The Drift", a new song written and recorded by local musicians, will be the theme song for the entire weekend.

Christmas dinner brightens season

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Happy New Year Everyone!!!

Wednesday, December 20th, was our Resident and Staff Christmas Dinner. Doris and Linda oversaw the setting of the tables which were beautiful. Mark Schell and his Staff prepared the dinner. It was a very delicious dinner and so well served. It was enjoyed by all. We had a turkey draw among the Residents and Staff for four turkeys. Winners were Ruby Graham, Kitchen; Jean Taylor, Resident; Sue Davis, Kitchen; and Terri Dillon, Health Care Aide. A Christmas cake was also won by Hilde Kieckhoefer. After dinner Ursula Nietsch played the accordion for carol singing. When the residents got tired some were taken to their rooms and the rest moved to the main lounge where we would be consolidated and more comfortable to sing.

Thursday was tea party day. The Wilberforce group came, they brought people from Gooderham, Harcourt, and Haliburton. The parents with the family of boys who sing and recite were here. They had prepared a concert for the residents and sang carols. After the concert the tea party was served so that everyone enjoyed it. We thank everyone who participated in Thursday's tea party.

In the evening Tom

McAllister (who called for us during the summer months) came and called bingo for us. We thank him very much and were glad to see him.

Friday was Happy Hour. The entertainment was provided by Bill Payne, Eldon Deacon, George Smith and a bass violin player Charles Hadley. We sincerely thank them for the entertainment and the volunteers who helped during the afternoon.

Friday night the Grandfathers Four came here to help us pass the evening very enjoyably. We thank them immensely. Bill had his granddaughter with him, she had her favourite dress on and she passed candy to everyone in the home in a sweet little basket.

Pearl Lyle had Jean and her son Derek to visit her. Friday her daughter-in-law Doris Lyle and her daughter Nancy came from Sundridge to see Pearl for Christmas.

Pearl Lyle was at Jean and George Hewitt's for Christmas.

Congratulations to Lily Hogg on having a birthday Sunday, December 24, 1989.

Saturday and Sunday almost everyone was preparing to go home to their families for Christmas.

Sunday evening Rev. John Burgess held the chapel service which was a Christmas service and Alice Jones played the organ. There was a good crowd out even though many had gone home. Thank you John and Alice and all who attended the service.

Monday at 10:00 Santa gave all the Residents each a gift, thanks to the hard work of our Home Auxiliary. We had Santa and his two efficient Elves, Doris Robertson and Carole Anne Schell, who made it a jolly morning. It certainly wasn't a green Christmas. Many were out Christmas day but those who stayed had a good Christmas Dinner and some had family here with them.

To name a few who were away are Alice Todd, May Horsley, Jean Taylor, Pearl Lyle, Annie Jones, Bob Mitchell, Annie Schultz, Maron Rose, Lola Prentice and Winnie Barnum.

Mrs. Lucy Burgess had an eye operation and is doing well. She is here at the home.

Happy New Years to everyone and especially the Senior League readers.
